

ENGLISH 373 | FALL 2018
SENIORS HONORS CONFERENCE
MONDAY 3:30PM-5:30PM | TAWES 2123

Professor Jason Rudy
jrrudy@umd.edu
Office: 3207 Tawes Hall
Office Hours: M 1-3:00pm and by appt.

CLASS OVERVIEW

This course is devoted to the development of creative and scholarly works-in-progress. Its aim is to provide structure and support for seniors as they research, write, revise, and edit their English Honors essays.

By the end of the semester, students will have written a full draft of their honors essay and will have received constructive feedback from their peers. Students will also receive feedback from the faculty advisor and from the Honors director.

TEXTBOOK

REQUIRED (FOR SCHOLARLY TRACK)
The Craft of Research, 3rd Edition by Booth et al. (ISBN: 978-0226065663)

RESERVES
Additional course materials will be available through ELMS.

POLICIES

I will adhere to University of Maryland policies with regard to excused absences, registered disabilities, incidents of plagiarism and academic dishonesty, and student conduct. Please refer to this website for more detailed information: really, please do click over and review the university's guidelines. Our course policies will rigorously follow those outlined on the linked page.

Submitting Your Work

All work is to be submitted via ELMS / Canvas. On the assignment page, look for the place to upload your Word doc or docx file. Because this class is organized around peer-reviewing, significant credit will be lost if papers are not turned in on time.

For students unable to turn in papers because of illness or dire emergency, a written note is required, and essays must be turned in as soon as possible.

- 9/17 Scholars
READ: Booth 103-170
- 9/24 Creative writers
Reading TBD
- 9/28 DUE: 7-page draft (11:59pm)
- 10/1 Joint Session
DUE: Peer critiques
- 10/8 Individual meetings with Professor Rudy (please sign up via ELMS / Canvas)
- 10/15 Scholars
READ: Booth 173-202
- 10/22 Creative writers
Reading TBD
- 10/26 DUE: 14-page draft (11:59pm)
- 10/29 Joint Session
DUE: Peer critiques
- 11/5 Scholars
READ: Booth 203-276
- 11/12 Creative Writers: reading TBD
Scholars meet individually with Professor Rudy
- 11/19 No class meeting
- 11/26 Optional meetings with Professor Rudy
- 12/3 No class meeting
DUE: 20-page draft (11:59pm)
- 12/10 Joint session
DUE: Peer critiques